A little more faith and a little less worry
 Applied to our daily affairs
 A little more poise and a little less hurry
 More time for our thoughts and prayers
 A little more joy in the doing of our duties
 Less grumbling, a little more song
 Would open our eyes to new truths and new beauties
 And help us to struggle along
 A little less taking, a little more giving
 A bit of the true Christian creed.
 The courage to try out a new way of living,
 Is just what we all seem to need
